

Textmanual för filmen: Välkommen till förskolan – en informationsfilm för vårdnadshavare English Subtitles

Time: 00.06 – 00.14

The objective of preschools in Sweden is to promote children's development. As is described in the curriculum.

Time: 00.15 – 00.21

All children will be involved and have an influence and learn about their rights.

Time: 00.23 – 00.29

There are trained and knowledgeable educators at the preschool that follows your child's development.

Time: 00.29 – 00.45

They work as a team and ensures that preschool becomes as good as possible for your child. If you are wondering about something you can always ask questions.

Time: 00.45 – 01.07

When you and the educators communicate and interact, home and preschool become complements. Thus creating good conditions for your child's education. This is important because children grow both at home and at preschool.

Time: 01.07 – 01.23

They learn to interact and communicate and build an understanding in how society functions. Swedish preschool curriculum is based on play, development and learning. The children learn by doing and mimicking each other.

Time: 01.23 – 01.53

When children interact with other children, both older and younger, they become caring and empathetic. Preschool lays the foundation for a lifelong desire to learn and a respect for human rights. Your child collects knowledge and values that helps future education and life.
